The Expo

Advanced Maritime Technology (AMT) Conference and Exhibition is for maritime professionals concerned with the electrification, hybridization, automation and autonomy of ships, the infrastructure of ports, energy transition, and alternative fuels to enable them and the regulations, finance and investments which underpin them.

AMT is itself a hybridization of two existing events which have been running for the last decade: The Electric & Hybrid Marine and Autonomous Ship Conferences and Expos.

As the early promise of fully autonomous ships encountered the very real legal and liability issues, so the very capable technology developed in the process saw increasing implementation in more automation, shore control, navigational support and efficiency initiatives.
